Booming businesses . . .

VILLAGE OF VARIETY

Businesses in Gosberton are part of the fabric of the village.

Especially in the case of Moons, furniture removals and storage firm.

The business is run by husband and wife team John and Betty Moon, who first came to Gosberton in 1962.

"I started collecting and selling furniture as a hobby and then decided to make it full-time business" said Mrs Moon.

"We bought our shop in Gosberton in 1963, and then branched into furniture removal, heated storage and carpet fitting."

Ten years ago they bought a van. They now have three and do deliveries all over Britain.

"We have just started a worldwide shipping service too, so if anyone is emigrating we can help them move home," added Mr Moon.

CONTAINERISED

Plans are also in the pipeline to provide containerised storage, which involves packing furniture into crates and storing them for weeks, months or years.

Moons pride themselves on the high quality of the furniture in their showrooms.

"We only deal in the better quality furniture, and we have our own small finance company to help run hire purchase schemes for customers," Mr Moon said.

Another long-established Gosberton firm is A. and W. Elsey's coaches.

Last year, their fleet of 34 coaches covered a total of 800,000 miles and carried more than 815,000 passengers.

The firm's history dates back to just after the second world war, when Mr Aubrey Elsey and his wife Winifred started the business with a Plaxton 26-seater.

"We used to call that coach 'Old Faithful' because it lasted for such a long time," said Mrs Elsey.

Elsey's always do brisk business on Tuluetime weekend, and this year was no exception.

On the Saturday there were more than 200 journeys from Spalding and on Sunday there were 230 journeys from Springfields and about 220 from the town.

The firm even runs its own social club for the drivers.

Traffic manager Mr Tom Meheew said the social club, which started two years ago, has "gone like a bomb."

Another up-and-coming Gosberton businessman, Bruce Stamp, first started selling light earth-moving equipment in 1974, and then moved onto selling and hiring mobile office cabins.

Mr Stamp, of 53 High

Street, now has a thriving business based at the railway yard, Pinchbeck.

"I like to buy and sell locally as far as I can, but I also deliver right up to Aberdeen and down to Plymouth," he said.

Perhaps one of the best-known businesses in Gosberton is the family firm of Windsor Bros.

The central heating and plumbing contractors first started in the village way back in 1923 when it was known as A. V. Windsor and Son.

The shop then was in Lowgate Lane, but the business has since moved to 62-4 High Street, and is now run by Mr Ray Windsor.

"We sell all sorts of things in the shop, wool, pottery, paraffin and stationery — but our main business is in plumbing and heating," said Mr Windsor.

"It is important to have a wide scope of business in these times of economic depression," he added.

A more recent arrival in the village is the firm Sinclair Trailers, started by Mr Keith Sinclair at Wargate Bridge in 1972.

Earlier this year, Mr Sinclair took three specially designed horse trailer to an international equestrian fair at Essen, Germany, in an attempt to boost export orders.

The results were dramatic; he had 100 orders from Germany, 20 from Italy and ten from Holland. "As soon as we have finished the trailers we put them in the yard and they are sold," said Mr Sinclair.

This is only part of the total business picture in Gosberton, and a glance through our advertisements will illustrate the number and variety of concerns contributing to the village's economy.
